Boy Scout Camp Is Now Debt-Free

Buckskin Boy Scout Council's camp construction debt notes last week made a small fire, but it warmed the council executive board members.

Sam Hill, chairman of the camp construction committee, gave his panel's report and the burning of the notes highlighted the report of the $250,000 program.

The "camp fire" was at the Quarrer Diner in Charleston.

Hill reported to the council that pledges received have enabled the council to pay all camp debts.

He explained that remaining pledges to the construction program will be used for pay-as-you-go construction.

Buckskin Reservation, located northeast of Marlinton, is rated the finest in the state and one of the best Boy Scout camps east of the Mississippi River, according to the council.

The council conducted a financial drive in its nine-county area in 1958 to raise the funds for the camp construction program.

Since the camp opened in Pocahontas County in 1960, more than 3,000 boys have used Buckskin Reservation. The council said this represents an increase of 50 per cent in camp attendance.

New Historical Booklet Published

"The Battle of Droop Mountain" is the title of a new booklet just published by the Parks and Recreation Division of the Department of Natural Resources. The publication contains 12 pages, plus covers, and is printed in two colors on a six-inch by nine-wide format.

The historical research and writing was conducted by Dallas
B. Shaffter, now a member of the faculty at Fairmont State College. Shaffer served as a historian for the Department while working on his doctoral degree in history at West Virginia University. He did the research and writing for the booklet "The Battle of Carnifex Ferry", which was published a year ago.

Shaffer studied official records in Washington for his background information concerning both battles. The two booklets are intended to serve as authoritative works on two major battles of the Civil War in West Virginia. Two state parks are now situated on or near the actual battlegrounds.

Shaffer is currently working on his dissertation, the subject of which is Lincoln and the Civil War in West Virginia.

Both booklets may be obtained free on individual request to the Public Relations Division, Department of Natural Resources, Charleston 5.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION TO FIGHT LIQUOR BY DRINK

A "Citizens Committee for Defeat of the Liquor Amendment" is the rather long name for an organization which will be formed at the Lewisburg Methodist Church on Sunday, February 25 at 3:30 p.m. by citizens of five counties. Persons from Greenbrier, Monroe, Pocahontas, Summers and Nicholas counties will be present to complete the organization which was begun at a state-wide meeting in Charleston on January 30. The meeting was announced this week by the Rev. Douglas N. Sheperd, Methodist minister at Rainelle who is chairman of five-county area. Mr. Sheperd stated that the meeting was not limited to churches, but was open to all persons concerned about the passage of the Constitutional amendment which would legalize the sale of liquor by the drink in West Virginia. The amendment will be voted on at the November election. Ministers' community leaders and interested citizens of each of the five counties are invited to the meeting.

The Pocahontas County Ministerial Association has previously announced its opposition to this proposed amendment and again urges its people to support this opposition to loosening state control over liquor distribution.

Two Are Selected As "Teachers Of The Year"

Teachers of the year—that extra s is no mistake. Mayo Beard, of Beard, and Lynn Kerr, of Green Bank, were chosen to share the honor and esteem of their students and fellow citizens by being designated 1962 Teachers of the Year for Pocahontas County. This project is sponsored by the Marlinton Woman's club but the selection is made by a committee representing various sections of the County.

There seems to be no lack of capable and dedicated teachers as year after year deserving and appreciated teachers are nominated for this title. As the leading candidates this year, these two were chosen unanimously. So many nice things were said about both that the committee felt it did not want to vote between the two so voted for the pair.

Humility must certainly be a shared virtue for they did not think themselves worthy of any honor, yet many patrons and former students were high in their praises concerning their teaching ability, to inspire their students to do better work and aspire to higher achievement, as

Miss Beard, the daughter of Richard McNeel and Bessie Dy-sard Beard, was educated in Hills-boro schools and has attended Marshall College, Columbia Uni-versity and Davis and Elkins Col-lege. PAUL WILLIAM HADDOCK

Melanoma Malignancy Takes Life Of Journal Editor

Paul William Haddock of Marlinton died of cancer on Friday, March 30, 1962. He entered the University Hospital at Morgantown on February 10 after failing to find the source of his illness at the hospital in Marlinton. Ten days later the doctors at Morgantown diagnosed his illness as a melanoma malignancy with a number of tumors in his lungs and stomach. Emalene therapy was used in the hope that it would strengthen him long enough for a cure for this type of cancer to be perfected. However after being moved to the Pocahontas Memorial Hospital on Sunday, March 18, he seemed rested and alert on Monday but on Tuesday began to decline more and more until his death on March 30.

Mr. Haddock was born in Uniontown, Pa. June 23, 1907, the son of the late William Samuel Haddock and Pearl Douglas Haddock Pickens. On June 23 1932, he married the former Miss Virginia Irene Athey of Cumberland, Md. who survives. He is also survived by his daughter, Mrs. Charles Shisler, Jr., and granddaughter, Charl Lene Shisler, of Morgantown; a nephew Edward R. Haddock worked on the "Weizer Democrat" in New Martinsville, papers in Terra Alta, Kittanning, Pa., Cumberland Md., Beckley, Washington and Waynesburg, Pa., before buying the Marlinton Journal on October 1, 1953, and The Cameron News on July 20, 1959. He edited both papers. He also organized the Haddock Print Shop in Washington, Pa., which he operated until 1931 when he sold a part interest to his brother Arthur. He had been a salesman for the Reuben H. Donnelly Corp., McRoberts Supply Company of Clarksburg and was at the time of his death the Underwood Corp. representative for Pocahontas County and some surrounding areas.

Mr. Haddock was a lifelong Republican and was active in party affairs. He was president of the Rotary Club, a past councillor of the Jr. O.U.A.M., a member of the I.O.O.F., the West Virginia Press Association, the National Editorial Association, and Ohio-Kanawha chapter of Sigma Delta Chi national journalism fraternity. A son, William Sheridan, died in infancy in March 1935; his older brother, Ruhl, died in 1943; and his brother, Arthur on November 30, 1960.

Mr. Haddock was raised in Moundsville where he attended the old Central Graded School and the present Moundsville High School. He served his apprenticeship in his father's printing plant, the Mound City Printing Company. He went to Oakland, Md., in January, 1925 where he worked on his first newspaper, the Mountain Democrat. He was very active in civic affairs, a strong booster of the "City Beautiful" program and a firm believer in tourist promotion as an answer to the economic problems of the county. He was a great advocate of the 4-H aim "To Make The Best Better" and was against anything that did not achieve that result.

Funeral services were held on Monday at the Marlinton Methodist Church with the Rev. George W. McCune, pastor of the church and the Rev. John A. Helms of Arbovale, a boyhood friend, officiating. Burial followed in Mountain View Cemetery.

PAUL HADDOCK — AN ACROSTIC

P is for Paul, a printer of the truth,
 Always in editorials, he displayed the spirit of youth;
 Unusual talents helped him lift men's fallen spirits above,
 Loving the down-trodden, he lifted their spirits through love.

Help for others came from his heart not head,
 And he stressed progress even from his sick bed;
 Desiring county growth, Pocahontas was by him blessed,
 Daring to face facts is a characteristic he possessed;
 On every occasion, he brought to others much pleasure,
 Courage to endure illness, he had in full measure;
 Know ye all men, why his memory we treasure.

A Pocahontas County business has applied for a Small Business Administration loan to expand its working facilities.

E. H. Williams, president of the Pocahontas Furniture Company, located in Marlinton and its vice-president, A. G. Killingsworth, met at the Federal Building in Elkins a few days ago in conference with U. S. Sen. Jennings Randolph. Senator Randolph is a member of the Senate Small Business Administration Committee.

The two furniture company representatives were accompanied to Elkins by Walter E. Jett, tee.

The company seeks a loan to increase the facilities of its concern. It now has 18 employees and when the loan is secured will be able to add 20 more employees. The company makes upholstered furniture and it was revealed during the conference with the U. S. Senator that many more orders have been turned down recently due to the lack of facilities and employees.

The one week of March produced more fires than the three-months period. During this one week burned an estimated 6, Kelly said. The 10 of District Five, comprising the southwestern part of the district led by far in the total number of fires and the number of acres burned. During the week in this district burned an estimated 4,027 acres.

Rains helped bring the fire season to a calm period under control, said, but he expects a surge if rains do. The official spring fire season extends through May.

Pocahontas county had a total of 8 fires since 1962 burning a total of 8,000 acres of grassland, 4 acres of timber, a total 12, acres this season.

The forest fire season, on March 3, is being handled by Mr. Roy Smith, USFS office in Martinsburg. The 23 acres of forest land under protection bounds the area.

Historical Jail To Be Dedicated To Late Editor

Everyone is invited to bring a picnic lunch and join your friends from all over Pocahontas County at the Pocahontas County Camping area near Rimel on the White Sulphur road this Sunday, June 10, at 1 p.m. This camping area is increasing in popularity and the Forest Service would like everyone in the county to visit it. It is hoped further development will be possible in the near future. The Pocahontas Beautiful County Commission is sponsoring this get-together to help our people know more about the camping facilities and other attractions in our county.

Following the picnic at about 3:00 a marker will be placed at the Huntersville Jail, one of our interesting historical spots. The marker will be placed there in memory of the late Paul W. Haddock, Editor of the Marlinton Journal, who was a member of the Commission and who wanted the Jail marked and opened for tourists. The jail will be open Sunday afternoon.

In case of rain the picnic will be held at Seneca State Forest.

We need more friendly get-togethers. Everyone bring your lunch and join your neighbors.

Take All Precautions With Your Lawn Mower

Morgantown—The lawn mowing season has begun. Nearly every homeowner uses a power mower on his lawn and most of them are the rotary type which has a rotating cutter underneath, says Waldo E. Bell, Extension Agricultural Engineer at West Virginia University.

Somebody, someplace is going to be injured as a result of the proper and unsafe use of power lawn mowers. A few simple precautions which just plain common sense should be observed to prevent most accidents when using power lawn mowers, he Always remember that the tip of the rotating blade is traveling at speeds from 70 to 100 miles per hour and the blade will cut flesh as well as grass. Take all precautions to keep feet, hands and other parts of the body away from the blade. Always stay behind the mower. Put it in park if you if it is not a self-propelled type. Do not pull it back by the handle. You can easily forget to turn your feet out of the way.

When cleaning under the mower, stop the engine and disconnect the spark plug which prevents accidental starting of the engine when hands are near the blade.

When working on a lawn, always mow across the grain, up and down. There is no

Army Field Training To Begin This Month

A U. S. Army field training exercise is shaping up this month in the Monongahela National Forest.

The 2nd Battle Group, 187th Airborne Infantry will act as the "enemy" force during the counter-guerrilla training mission beginning around June 17th. The troops will wage mock war against personnel of E Company, 1st Battle Group, 501st Airborne Infantry and elements of the 3th Special Forces Group (Airborne).

The highly specialized Special Forces soldiers, wearing their distinctive green berets, will aid and instruct troops acting as guerrillas.

Citizens of the area are to be alerted to the fact that the guerrilla forces represent the local inhabitants. In order to provide maximum realism during the exercise, it is requested that the local population assist the guerrillas by not revealing information to the troops acting as enemy forces.

The guerrillas do not anticipate any civilian action against the "enemy" troops, but will count heavily on the support of the civilian population. Local residents are urged to give every assistance to the friendly guerrilla forces who represent them and their comrades, the men in green berets.

Approximately 60 People Attend Jail Dedication

Approximately 60 people attended the picnic at the Pocahontas Camp Ground on the Tunnel-White Sulphur road on Sunday held by the Pocahontas Beautiful Commission. They all remarked about the beauty of the location and were pleasantly surprised with the facilities there.

The group drove back to Huntersville to the old Jail and were joined by others to swell the crowd to between 75 and 100, who stood in the bright sunshine for the dedication of a marker to let tourists know a little of the history of it.

The inscription on the marker, made by James Schuffner of the U. S. Forest Service, is as follows: "Built around 1878, this almost inescapable sandstone and brick structure, replaced a frame building. Huntersville was the County Seat of Pocahontas County from its formation in 1821 until 1891."

The marker was dedicated in memory of Paul W. Haddock whose love of Pocahontas—its history, its beauty and its progress was deep and sincere.

The invocation was given by the Rev. J. I. Prather of Hillsboro.

J. W. "Bill" Moses and William McNeel unveiled the marker as it was dedicated.

A short history of the jail was given by Mrs. Mabel Barlow, whose homeplace was nearby. Remarks were made by Rev. Prather and Mrs. Jane P. Sharp, president of the Woman's Club. Clarence Moore, who owns the old lock that was used on the jail, brought the lock with him so that the group might inspect it.

The benediction by the Rev. Prather, closed the dedication service.

LETTER TO EDITOR

July 2, 1962

Dear Editor:

Of all the things I have ever heard, nothing hurts me as much as for the Supreme Court to give such orders as to not have prayer in our schools, so the young people can be taught to know all our blessings come from God and their future depends solely on putting their trust in God who has made this nation great by putting our trust in God. Kennedy says they can pray at home or in their churches. A great majority don't pray at home or go to church so why should our Supreme Court give such orders. It is stamped on our money "In God We Trust". For never in my life have I had anything to hurt me so much because if this is carried out by the Supreme Court we may expect to be destroyed like Sodom and Gamorrah on account of their not honoring God. I do hope and pray that the Congress and Senate will see that these orders are changed at once. I hope our Supreme Court and every one will realize that without God's blessings we are doomed.

I. D. SHARP.
